

The HSE Health Passport for People with an Intellectual Disability

A new innovation for St Michael's House – A Service User Perspective

What is this Health Passport?

This Health Passport is a useful easy to read document. It lets healthcare staff know all about my abilities and needs. It includes many things including medication and best ways to communicate. The Health passport is available in paper format and App version.

Paper Version

App Download

Why is a Health Passport important?

The health passport is person centred. It portrays a complete picture of me. It allows my likes/dislikes to be shared with those providing care and support.

Who own's the Health Passport ?

I own the passport and it allows me to be in charge of my own health information. I am engaged in my health care as the passport travels with me through my health care journey as well as when I leave. This allows for my care to be more person centred and dignified.

Anne Spencer, Ann Hunt
Christine Kiernan, Emma Maguire

For more information about the Health passport and how to get involved contact the CREATE team

create@smh.ie